Boating Club News

A Message from your Commodore — Cara Clark

The big event of the year, Tolly Fiesta, is almost here! The Bridge is in high gear putting together this year's rendezvous. I hope you are making plans to attend—it is sure to be a load of fun! Decorate your boats, get in the fiesta spirit, and head for Roche Harbor June 24-27.

The festivities officially begin on Thursday with a large number of Tollycrafts arriving. Registration will start at 10 am on the party dock. Bruce Wittman, our treasurer, is in charge of registration—so if you'd like to help with registration, give Bruce a call or drop him an email. We love to have lots of volunteers! Thursday evening will start with Happy Hour with Bob Erwin and his talented crew pouring the margaritas. Dinner will be a Fiesta Potluck on the party dock—so bring that salsa, guacamole, and your favorite fiesta dish.

It just wouldn't be Friday morning at the Tolly Rendezvous without the famous Roche Harbor donuts and coffee—so join us on the party dock for some great conversation over coffee. More Tollys will be arriving so come on down and meet your friends. Our vendors will be set up on the party dock and up by the store so come check them out. They are a huge support for our club and we appreciate them.

Pat Flynn and Kaye Bickford will be heading up our clothing sales. Check out the latest Tolly gear on Thursday, Friday and Saturday! If you would like to help Pat and Kaye, give them or me a call. We love the help and it's fun!

"Burgers and Brews" are on tap for lunch on Friday. Larry Coffey and Brett Peck will be heading this event, so if you'd like to flip some burgers and ice down some beer, give Larry or Brett a call. You can't beat $5 for a burger and a couple of beers or pop. We'll have a seminar with guest speakers after lunch.

The pets will be getting into the Fiesta Spirit in the annual Pet Parade. This is always a fun event whether you have pets or not....it is hilarious! Following the Pet Parade, it's another Happy Hour prior to Friday night dinner under the tents. Bill Shaw, our fabulous Roche Harbor Executive Chef, will prepare a wonderful dinner for us to enjoy.

Saturday starts off with the annual Pancake and Canadian Bacon Breakfast hosted by our Canadian Tolly friends. Terry Murphy has assembled a world class group of pancake flippers. We'll also have Bloody Marys and Mimosas as well as coffee.

We have had lots of requests for more time to visit and mingle on the docks with friends so we are taking a year off from the Wine and Cheese luncheon. This might also be a good time for lunch at the Lime Kiln Café or Madrona Grill or an afternoon of shopping at the wonderful stores at the resort.

Join us later on Saturday afternoon for the "world famous dinghy parade"! Decorate your dinghies "Fiesta Style" as we parade through the harbor led by Kevin and the Bridge on the Party Barge. There will be lots of Fiesta music and plenty of laughs for sure. Prizes will be given for the best decorated dinghy and crew as well as best decorated Tolly. We'll announce the winners at the Saturday night dinner when we gather under the tents for a fabulous Fiesta dinner prepared by Bill Shaw and his crew. A big thank you to Bill for his enthusiasm and creativity!

Thank you to Kevin Carlton, Harbormaster, and Troy Buck, Associate Harbormaster, for helping us organize our rendezvous. Their awesome dock crew, especially Tug—who has been our main dock leader for the past 2 years—provides outstanding service during our event. Thanks Kevin and Troy—we couldn't do it without you!

Tollycraft Rendezvous is made possible by the support of our members. We are always looking for members to help us with club events so please let us know on the registration form, by email or phone, or talk to us when you get to Roche Harbor. It's fun and a great way to meet people.

Finally, I would like to take an opportunity to thank everyone, including all the past commodores and bridge members who have given me and the current bridge such wonderful support. It's what makes this club so fabulous!

I think it's time for a Tolly party so get those sombreros and maracas out and let's have some fun. I hope to see you at Tolly Fiesta!

A Message from your Vice Commodore — Brett Peck

THE JOURNEY

Finally! There in the darkened room I detect the first stirrings of the light of the new day. I'm up! I've only been in bed for a couple hours. I tried sleeping, but the sleep would not come. The weather has been checked and re-checked. Tides, currents too. The boat has been packed for days. Food stores went on the day before. All's that's needed is a new day and a ready skipper.

Engines are warmed, lines tidied up and finally we get to put her nose into the current. We are off!

At first things are familiar, comfortable. A backyard I have known for many years. I pass by Hat Island and say hello to this familiar friend. Next up is Camano head, then Langley as I head north into Saratoga. It's a common ritual that I've played countless times, but a welcome one. There is something fulfilling about familiar stomping grounds. Time flies and soon I'm upon Elger bay. Years ago in one of my first boats I lost an engine there to failing risers and ever since crossing past Elger bay has seemed like some kind of threshold. I feel victorious and crack a smile to myself. A minor but important victory. For me, that's the place where I settle in and start feeling like I'm away from home. That's where my new journey really begins. Soon comes Onamac Point (Ever notice that's Camano spelled backwards?) and a sense of progress. One more point and we get to leave Camano behind. Another threshold crossed.

Rocky point may be the jumping off point to leave Camano behind, but it's also the point where things change. As its name suggests, the sloughing tall clay hills of Puget Sound are giving way to a rougher, rockier topology. The look and feel of everything changes in a flash. It's barely two miles from Rocky Point until the dog leg left around the Northern tip of Whidbey, but the changing feeling of the land and water could not be more striking. Thresholds indeed! Gravel beaches, rocky volcanic cliffs and the first hints of a waterway that is coming to life as we jostle in the tide rips off Strawberry Point. These currents reveal a building tidal force that grows bigger with every mile beneath the keel as we move closer to some unseen but powerful force ahead. Slowly at first as the Swinomish Slough comes into view, then rapidly as we pass by Hope Island. The water starts to shift, churn.

I don't know how many times I've been through Deception Pass. Fifty? A hundred? I do know that the first glimpse of the bridge in the distance always takes my breath away. A moment of excitement, a little shot of adrenaline and raging twisting whirlpools give way again to another major threshold. The relatively protected waters of Saratoga Passage give way to Rosario and the East entrance to Juan De Fuca. Everything is Volcanic now. Harsh, but beautiful.

There is a feeling of excitement entering more open untamed waters that is indescribable. Even on a calm day it is palpable. The boat somehow becomes something akin to being more than just machine. Somehow she seems to be of eager anticipation to put her nose into the light afternoon chop. Diving into a wave and then rising rejoicingly, tossing a little crisp fresh spray over the rail. We anticipate the next wave and secretly hope that the afternoon breeze does not die too early.

Before you know it, Lopez Island and Iceberg Point are behind us. As Cattle Point looms, I look for Porpoises and hope that I may be blessed with a little fun play in my bow wake. There is a feeling of having come so far, but as we labor up the West side of San Juan Island, the points and bays seem to go on forever. Eagle Point, False Bay, Pile Point and on. Finally Lime Kiln. Maybe the orcas are out playing, but it's getting late so we don't linger long. Henry Island looms into view, bigger and bigger. Before you know it, were tucked into safety as we wind around in Mosquito pass. Idling along, it always happens. That familiar feeling again. Somehow strangely out of place but unmistakable. It's the feeling of home just as Roche Harbor comes into view.

It's rendezvous time!!!!

A Message from your Rear Commodore — Bob Erwin

"On a certain bright morning the Islands hove in sight, lying low on the lonely sea, and everyone climbed to the upper deck to have a look." (Samuel L. Clemens, "Mark Twain: Roughing it in the Sandwich Islands", 1872)

As my good friend and inner confidant (hey, don't judge, Jimmy Stewart had a big frickin imaginary rabbit) notes so eloquently in the above passage, the excitement we all feel as we are nearing our destination, to look out and see land, and know that soon, we will be in a wonderful and relaxing place, holds a special meaning. The anxiousness and preoccupation of the trip: do I have enough fuel, did I pack enough clothes, what about food, is the weather going to hold out, what is that noise in the engine room? These are all cast aside as we come closer to our goal.

Over the years crossing the Straits and waiting for Cattle Point to "hove" into view, or passing Smith Island knowing shelter from that five foot westerly side swell is close at hand, these are the little inklings of excitement we get knowing Roche Harbor is just up the way. As we head up Mosquito Pass or turn into Speiden Channel, suddenly everyone is on deck looking out with a sense of anticipation and wonder. We wonder at the beauty of the Islands. We wonder at the splendor of the sea and mountains. We anticipate the arrival into Roche and its fabulous history as well as its place in Tolly lore. Finally, as we pull into our assigned berth, next to old friends or those in waiting, I trust we feel the same deep feelings of being at a trips end and the wonderful contentment that Mr. Twain and his shipmates must have felt upon arriving the Hawaiian Islands.

All these adjectives and adverbs about a trip in the making and coming to an end are merely just the beginning. The whole time I have been lulling you into your trips end at Roche was really a ruse in getting you TO Roche!! This is where the fun, excitement, anticipation, wonder, splendor, etc...etc... all begin. If you have been here, you know. If you have heard, you know. If you're wondering, well....come on up! This is where the true fun of being a Tolly owner is. Where else can you see a hundred Tolly's or more in one place? Where else can you meet new friends and enjoy the company of old, all with the same interests at heart: Tolly's and boating.

This years Rendezvous is set to be as enjoyable and entertaining as those past. With Commodore Cara Clark putting on a Fiesta theme and the great atmosphere of the Islands and weather, it is bound to be a winning combination. Get your Sombrero's, salsa and Suaza together and come enjoy the party. And remember, as you gather on the upper deck to have a look at the Islands after a long journey over the lonely seas, know that you are not alone, as your good friends (and, per chance, inner confidants) are just around the corner. See you in Roche!!

"Tolly Fiesta" ... what to wear?

A Message from your Immediate Past Commodore — Steve Monrad

Over the last handful of years, three times a year I have brainstormed the content of my article for the Tollycraft Boating Club newsletter. Generally, the article centered on upcoming or past club events, how bummed I was to see summer over, or how happy I was for summer's arrival. The articles followed a formula not unlike my predecessors at the helm of the club. With that said, this article will most likely be no different: I'm happy summer is coming... We have a great rendezvous on tap... And, of course, I am looking forward to another cruising season!

During this year's mild winter, I was fortunate to get away for a couple short cruises. My favorite was a quick cruise on absolutely flat water from Anacortes to Patos Island to just snap a few photos of the lighthouse under an azure sky. After completing my annual spring maintenance projects, I enjoyed a great cruise to Port Ludlow last month, and can't wait for this month's cruise to Bell Harbor! I'm also excited to take delivery of a new tender this spring and get it all set up and ready for this summer's gunkholing adventures.

Looking back over the past five years on the bridge, I have some great memories. At my first rendezvous, during the annual business meeting I heard the club was looking for a new trustee. Being the kind of person that has to get involved with everything, I approached past commodores Lee Worthy and Norm Culbert and threw my hat in the ring to be the newest and youngest member of the bridge. I quickly learned that this club is fueled by the hard work and dedication of the members who choose to share their time for the good of the cause. It's not every day you get to throw a party for a couple hundred of your closest boating friends! Planning and executing the rendezvous and other club events is a tremendous amount of work, but the load is lightened by the help of everyone involved. It's also a tremendous amount of fun, and there's no better way to be part of the fun than to roll up your sleeves and volunteer! If you have some time and enthusiasm to share, consider becoming part of the bridge!

I would like to thank all of the people who have supported me during this adventure. I owe a debt of gratitude to those who served before me, laying the groundwork to make this club what it is today. We are able to throw the great parties that we do because of the past leadership taking risks, trying new things, and passing on their knowledge and experiences.

To be honest, there is a part of me that will miss being involved on the bridge. It has been a great experience and an opportunity to spend time with lots of great people. The other parts of me are excited to step back for a bit and enjoy being a member! I'm anxious to see where the upcoming bridge members will take the club, and I look forward to doing what I can to help them lead the club to success. Please join me in welcoming the new bridge and offering them support!

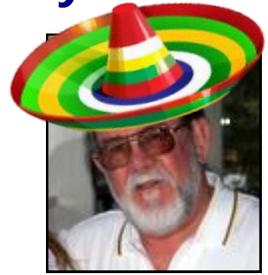

Are you ready for the "Tolly Fiesta"?

Here are some decorating ideas for your boat.

A Message from your Secretary — Larry Coffey

I Know Now What They Were Talking About

The older you become, the faster time flies. There no longer seems to be 24 hours in a day, certainly not 7 days in a week, and, of course, where does time go? I can remember hearing such thoughts from the "older generation" as I was growing up. The older they became, the more frequent the expression of those thoughts. Well I have gotten older (thankfully) and I now find myself saying the same things and feeling the same way.

The ability to accurately predict how long a task will take is apparently gone forever. It takes me longer to do almost everything than I estimate it will. The old hour task is no longer. It has become an hour and a half, two-hour, okay, may-be even three-hour task. I used to say that my mind was willing but my body wouldn't always cooperate. Now it seems that sometimes neither will cooperate, at least not on demand. Coordination – you have to be kidding!

The bright side is that I have made it this far and even look forward to many more years of fun and fulfillment. This boating thing I became involved with has been particularly enjoyable. Though I was older when my boating journey began, by then I was in no hurry. There are huge benefits to not being in a hurry – not the least of which are that I can enjoy cruising at 8 knots, savor the scenery and reduce fuel consumption, all with no thought given to getting back to work. I even drink my wine slower these days and it's much more enjoyable. I am able to enjoy all aspects of boating and the great friends I have met along the way.

The time we have available, passing slow or fast or disappearing quickly, is what it is. I cannot figure out how to get any more, so I plan to use the heck out of what there is of it. The boat goes back in the water next week and, yes, all the projects have taken longer than anticipated but they will be all complete. I'll be ready for Bell Harbor, where I look forward to welcoming all who arrive and having a great time together talking about all of it.

I always keep good thoughts about an upcoming boating season and this one is no exception. May we all have good weather, calm seas, good times and safe journeys. See you all on the water. Thinking about this time thing, I wonder when my children will know what I was talking about....

It's Time for a "Tolly Fiesta"!!

A Message from your Trustee — Mike McCormick

Alright now, everyone join in and sing this familiar song with me!

Ready.....Hit it!

Love, exciting and new

Come Aboard. We're expecting you,

Love, life's sweetest reward,

Let it flow, it floats back to you

Love Boat, Soon will be making another run

The love Boat promises something for everyone

Set a course for adventure, your mind on a new romance

Love, won't hurt anymore, it's an open smile on a friendly shore

YES..... LOOOOOOOOOVVVVVVE!

Unless you were just born yesterday, most of us remember this tune as the tacky Love Boat theme song played over and over on the radio, and also on the Love Boat television show .

Recently while at the marina and working on our own boat, I bumped into a few other Tollycraft boat members who were performing general maintenance and installing new items onto their boats. Is it a labor of love?

Whatever it is, we as boat owners seem to pick up the pace with cleaning and waxing, adding accessories and preparing our boats for the upcoming season. All of the work on our boats will reward us in a safe passage when we set our course for the adventure up to Roche harbor.

Speaking of Roche harbor, this will be our 4th time attending the fabulous event and we're looking forward to it with great anticipation. The bridge is currently planning out a great event for all to have fun. The Tolly club promises something for everyone. One word.....FIESTA! Get ready to eat, drink and be merry with your Tolly club friends and decorate your boats in full fiesta theme! Make sure you have on board your best salsa recipe and a bucket of chips to share. Perhaps a few margaritas will have your mind on a new romance!

Mikes Famous Salsa Recipe:

Place and grind up coarsely (not too fine) in a food processor:

1/3 to 1/2 bunch of cilantro leaves

2 medium tomatillos

3 to 4 Roma tomatoes

1 large red or yellow bell pepper

Juice of two limes

1 teaspoon salt

2 teaspoons chili powder

1 medium large onion

Jalapeno pepper*depending on taste tolerance

½ (mild) to 2 whole(Hot) cut cleaned and all seeds removed. Stir, chill and enjoy

Cheers and safe boating!

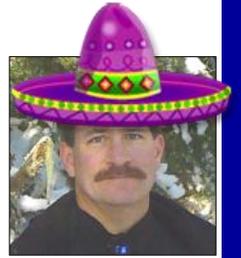

Mike

Want to attend the Tolly Fiesta Rendezvous?... Here is What You Need to Do

Renew your TBC membership: Registration for the rendezvous is open to all current members of the Tollycraft Boating Club and the Canadian Tollycruisers. If you haven't renewed your membership for 2010, please renew now! Please submit your renewal fees by 5pm on Friday, May 14th, to be listed in the 2010 Members Directory. Renew on-line by visiting our website at <http://www.tollyclub.com/membership> and clicking on "Renew Your Membership". Or, "snail mail" your membership renewal form and payment to me at the address listed on the form.

Registering for the rendezvous: Registering is easy! Just complete the registration form in this edition of the newsletter and mail it to me along with your payment. If you have questions, drop me a line @ treasurer@tollyclub.com. It's important that you register soon so that we have an accurate people count for food planning and T-shirt orders. We ask that you have your registrations in by no later than 6/15/10, but if you are able to attend at the last minute please come by. We might not have shirts for you but we will find a place for you to moor and would be delighted to have you.

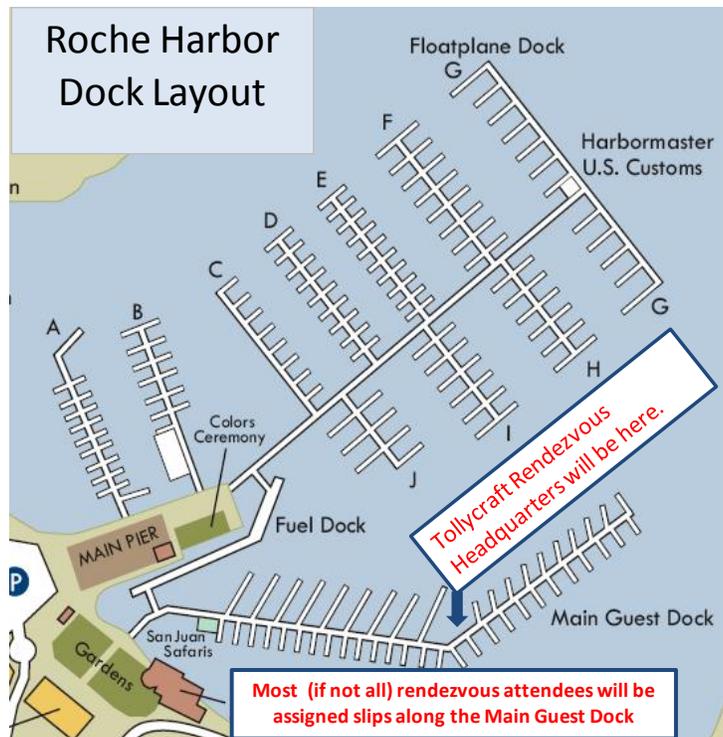

Important: There is no need to call Roche Harbor to reserve a slip for the rendezvous; we will make the mooring arrangements with Roche Harbor and the Roche staff will come to your boat to collect slip rental fees.

Roche Harbor check-in: Upon your arrival in Roche Harbor, hail the Harbormaster's office on VHF channel 78A and tell them that you are attending the Tollycraft Rendezvous so that they can direct you to the appropriate slip. Docking is made easy by the highly skilled dock-hands that will assist you when you arrive at your assigned slip. Oh, and don't be surprised to find your Tolly friends there to greet you and lend a helping hand.

Rendezvous check-in: After your crew has settled-in, please check-in with me or one of my lovely assistants at the check-in station near the party tents on the Main Guest Dock. We will be pleased to sign you in and welcome you to the rendezvous. Your rendezvous T-shirts, 2010 Club roster, schedule of events, and other rendezvous materials will be waiting for you. We are planning to staff the rendezvous check-in station from 10AM until 3PM on Thursday (6/24/10) and Friday (6/25/10) and from 10AM until Noon on Saturday (6/26/10).

During the past two months, I have received many inquiries about registering for the "Fiesta" rendezvous at Roche Harbor; therefore, I predict a very large turnout, so register early!

Port Ludlow Cruise

Port Ludlow is always such a fun cruise. Sure its early spring and the weather can be a bit unpredictable, but as they say, if you don't like it, just wait 15 minutes. It's hard not to fall into the right frame of mind when you come into the harbor and know that our good friend Tolly is watching up on the hill. I came into the harbor and was directed to a slip across from the fuel dock. It seems the wind and current is always blowing in that section of the marina, but I backed her in after a couple minutes of figuring out just exactly what the wind and current had in store for me. It's always nice to have a hand and Jim, Marilyn and Steve Holmes were all there to lend a hand and provide real time advice. About 15 minutes later I hear John Semasco on the radio looking for a slip. I'm sure the wind must have died right as he entered the harbor, because he took one shot and pulled right into his slip as if it was his home port.

The sun came out that afternoon and we decided to hold our evening potluck out on the dock. Why not take advantage of the weather when you get a chance! We set up our tables and got to work on dinner. The food came out and everything was set, just in time for the afternoon shower. We thumbed our noses at Mother Nature and stood like turkeys in the rain. For awhile anyway... We finished up our evening by joining the Port Ludlow yacht club at their new bar located below the Harbormaster Restaurant. While relaxing in front of the fireplace we all watched some of our newest members in "Island Joy" bring their boat into Port. It was great to meet Jon and Laura.

Saturday came and our motley group of loyal Tolly mini cultists was joined by the Tolly land cruisers for lunch at the Harbormaster. We were joined of course by Tolly himself and his caretaker Scott. We could tell right away that Tolly was in great spirits and we were not to be let down. I caught Tolly at his table with a group of fans salivating on the edge of their chairs. Something was going on, and it seemed to involve ALL of the silverware to be had within arm's reach of any nearby table. Turns out it was a "not quite to scale but close enough" recreation of Tolly's last slip and a lesson on the finer points of using wind, current, tide and all other available resources to maneuver a 48 into its slip within a very narrow fairway. The report I heard later was impressive and topped off by the fact that at the end of the lesson, Tolly turned to Jonathan Finch and handed him back his own set of silverware, Tolly knew the owner of each piece!!! It was a great lunch.

Sunday came and with it some nice weather. So nice in fact that a few of us refused to go home. Steve Monrad in Jollymon, the Semasco's in Tollytime and myself in Otter continued on to Point Hudson were we stayed until Monday.

If you have been thinking about joining us for a mini, I can't recommend it enough. Next up...Bell Harbor!!!

Bell Harbor Cruise

May 14th—16th

The time for this event is just around the corner. I am really looking forward seeing all of you and sharing some eats, drink and a few good stories. I am in daily contact with the Tolly weather Gods and requesting warm days and cool nights. Cold and Wet are words we won't even consider for this get together – erase them from your mind.

Be sure to view the planned activities on the opening page of the website. In addition, Phil Rohn pointed out that the Eagles are playing at Key Arena on Thursday 5/13. May be a good night out for those who wish to come to Bell Harbor on Thursday. Also listed on the website under "Destinations" are the boats that have signed up to be part of the fun.

Oh yeah, Bob has promised to have Teaghlach's bar up to full compliment for its coming out party and Mr. Bass is emphatic about My Way arriving on two (2) engines – hope they aren't outboards. It appears we will have a good turn out with 19 boats currently signed up.

The phone number for the Bell Harbor Marina is 206 615 3952/3953 and please remember to extend the courtesy of calling into the office on channel 66 as you approach the marina.

See you there.

Larry Coffey

North Sound Cruise

September 10th—12th

Make plans to join us at the Cap Sante Boat Haven in Anacortes for the 7th Annual North Sound Cruise! This will be our second year cruising to Anacortes. Last year, those in attendance enjoyed the marina's new, wide docks and abundant crabbing not far from the breakwater.

Within a very short walk visitors will find the outstanding Anacortes Farmer's Market, which was featured in an article in Northwest Yachting. Two major grocery stores, other shopping, and great restaurants are also within walking distance. Although there will surely be early birds, the festivities will begin with a potluck on Friday evening. Saturday will offer plenty of time for exploring and relaxing. Right next to the marina on Saturday, you can take in the Annual Anacortes Antique Engine & Machinery Show, a fun, free event. Saturday evening we'll gather for dinner, exact location to be announced.

Cap Sante currently has some of the least expensive fuel in the North Sound, so Sunday will be a good time to fuel up and head for your next destination. This cruise coincides nicely with the annual Canadian Tollycruisers Rendezvous at Telegraph Harbour on Thetis Island. Many members make this event a jumping off point for a week of cruising while making their way to the Canadian event, and as usual the more the merrier!

We hope you make plans to join us in Anacortes! If you are planning to attend, you must contact Steve Monrad at webmaster@tollyclub.com. Complete information on event specifics will be on the club website as the time draws near to the event.

See you in Anacortes!

2010 "Winners Take All" - Cash Prizes Poker Run

Again this year and brought back by popular demand, Jay and Vernessa Hartland (Destiny) will be putting on the second annual Poker Run where you don't need to know how to play poker to win. Last year, many of you were disappointed that you missed out and here is your chance to win lots of cash if you are one of the multiple winners! This will happen on Saturday and only take about 30 minutes of your time as we send you walking around Roche Harbor to draw your poker cards. There will be a small entry fee for each poker hand and each person can enter and play more than one hand. More details to follow but for now plan on being one of the Big Winners at the Saturday dinner as we give out the CASH!

Bottom Time Diver

Jim Gardner from Bottom Time in Anacortes will be available all day Saturday. Jim offers full inspections of the bottom of your boat as well as zinc replacements. Let Jim take a look at your bottom, free of charge, and he'll tell you like it is. If you already know you will need some zincs replaced hold off until June and have Jim take care of it. If you are interested in taking advantage of this great opportunity, please be sure to check the Bottom Time Diver box on the registration form.

Lazy Daze

Your Tolly is Our Tolly

R.M. Tollefson built all his boats to last. That's why you own them and why we smile when we get to work on them. Pacific Fiberglass is a frequent way-point for Tollys. Leonard Almo's 37 Jubilee and Herb Burnett's 26 Lazy Daze had our definitive blister jobs; peeling, DryHull® drying, West System® epoxy and 6 epoxy barrier coats. From bottom paint to thrusters and hull extensions, Pacific Fiberglass will love your Tolly.

- Structural and cosmetic fiberglass repair
- Superb topsides painting • Gelcoat matching
 - DryHull moisture repair • Bottom painting
 - Running gear, struts, shaft and propellers

Hampton Yacht Building Co. Ltd. is a family owned and operated business that began operation in 1962. The company was originally located in Taiwan and built the Formosa line of yachts. The Chen family built over 2000 yachts before locating to Shanghai in 1992 when they launched their very successful line of Hampton Motoryachts. Jeff & his sister Jennifer now manage the family business and produce some of the finest built and finished yachts in the marine industry today. The current product lines being built at the boatyard include Hampton, Overseas and Endurance Yachts. We invite you to stop by our Chandler's Cove office when you are in Seattle and take a look at these beautiful new yachts and our select pre-owned Tollycraft's.

Established in 1998, our aim was to continue to service the Tollycraft owners as well as produce our own models to blend in with the former traditions of Tollycraft. We have the 26,34,40,48 and have altered the molds to fit todays market. We hope you will enjoy seeing our new vessels, and also the modifications we have done to some of the existing Tollycrafts around the Puget Sound. Here are a few highlights of our company. We look forward to providing our services to you someday. Give us a call 360-756-0405

Grand Departures
FUNERAL SERVICES

When you are heading out cruising in your Tolly, there is always a lot of planning that goes into your trip. Making sure that you have fuel and provisions, that the boat is in tip top shape and the home you are leaving behind is cared for.

When it comes to your final destination, have you charted your course? Do your loved ones know your wishes or will they be using the proverbial placemat to chart your destination? These decisions need to be made by the Captain, not the deck hands! Chart your course while you are still at the helm and in charge of your destination.

We offer a fresh look at the funeral profession by offering cutting edge and unique ways of celebrating your life, from the basic to the extreme; traditional to non-traditional. Unlike the prices at the fuel dock, we are not corporately owned and offer very competitive pricing. Free registration of your wishes is available at www.GrandDepartures.com.
